Summary of qualifications
	"I am a Front-end Developer who enjoys building web components and creating modern websites.
	When working on my own projects, I follow a predefined activity plan using Trello cards to track errors and prioritize features. I like to have complete control over my code and therefore prefer using basic CSS for less complex projects. However, I recently switched to using a preprocessor like SASS, which allows me to add advanced functionality to traditional CSS. I am proficient in reading and understanding almost any CSS codebase, and I am skilled in debugging CSS using Chrome Developer Tools.
	I have experience in creating websites "from scratch", as well as using web frameworks such as Bootstrap and Flexbox Grid, or CMSs like WordPress, to develop websites of various types."
